DONOR PRIVACY POLICY

The National Security Archive Fund, Inc. ("the Archive") deeply values the contribution of the many individuals and charitable foundations that support its work. To protect the privacy of its donors, the Archive will not sell, trade, or share donor contact information that it collects with any other organizations and will not send mailings on behalf of other organizations. If donors wish to remain anonymous, they have the option for their gifts to be listed as anonymous donations on, or excluded from, any lists of donors that the Archive may publish, except to the extent that the law requires the Archive to maintain or disclose donor information. This policy may be updated from time to time.

An Independent non-governmental research institute and library located at the George Washington University, the Archive collects and publishes declassified documents obtained through the Freedom of Information Act. Publication royalties and tax-deductible contributions through The National Security Archive Fund, Inc. underwrite the Archive's budget.
